The heart of structure is set in an ancient, typically Tuscan village, with stone houses, colored rendering, and a small square with a country chapel. The reception, the tennis court, the small wellness center, a conference room and the swimming pool for the apartments, are all surrounded by countryside, with views of the Tignanello vineyard and, in the distance, the Valle della Pesa. Podere is located at the highest point of the vineyards from which the famous wine is made.

The hamlet is a place of local historic importance, entirely built in stone and surrounded by countryside, offering breath-taking views of the rolling Chianti hills.

Each apartment has an independent entrance and outside area (veranda or garden), terracotta floors, wooden beams, very comfortable bathrooms and well-equipped kitchens.

The conference room can accommodate 40 people in the stalls and a further 25 in the semicircular balcony.

It is the ideal place for country weddings or private events.
